Environment & Sustainability

At SBP Group our curious and innovative nature drives us to constantly refine our commitment to achieving sustainable environmental, social and economic outcomes through new ways of thinking.

Our core value, 'accountability' sees us adopt sustainable approaches to building and construction across three pillars – ecological, social and economic to ensure we positively contribute to the wellbeing of society and ensuing generations. SBP's systems and processes reflect ISO 14001 environmental accreditation standard.

The core principles of our Environment & Sustainability Policy are to:

- + Show leadership in sustainable stewardship and management
- + Implement systems that optimise environmental protection, economic prosperity, social equality, and cultural dynamics to ensure that business, ecosystems, and communities flourish beyond the life of a project
- + Operate our own facilities in a safe, environmentally and socially responsible manner
- + Comply with the legislative requirements and environmental standards governing our industry and those of the clients for whom we work
- + Engage and collaborate with our stakeholders to achieve mutually beneficial and sustainable outcomes in all aspects of business operations
- + Employ local tradesman and suppliers, as well as the utilisation of locally sourced materials and Australian-made materials where achievable
- + Practice safe and responsible waste disposal and management, including the reuse and recycling of materials, and the use of environmentally acceptable mediums such as Hemp Crete
- + Comply where necessary with the Green Star rating system to meet our client and stakeholder environmental commitments and requirements
- + Monitor our environmental impact and where practical act early to eliminate or minimise potential risks
- + Communicate, consult and engage openly with our employees, clients, stakeholders, and the communities in which we operate
- + Manage our activities in order to prevent or minimise pollution; respect and protect our community, cultural and heritage sites; protect flora and fauna and the natural surroundings; and preserve biodiversity
- + Establish measurable sustainability objectives and targets that drive continuous improvement
- + Develop, employ and disseminate innovative technologies and methods that integrate sustainability into our business and clients' facilities
- + Provide employees with the training, opportunity and encouragement to integrate sustainability as part of their work
- + Keep continuous improvement in front of mind when making decisions relating to environmental, social and economic sustainability

The Managing Directors of SBP Group are responsible for the implementation of this policy and ensuring that all employees, contractors and business partners conform to its commitments. Individuals or groups who participate in activities that contravene this policy or the governing legislation may find themselves subject to disciplinary and/or legal proceedings.
